

A black and white line drawing of a winter landscape. The foreground is a wavy line representing snow. In the middle ground, there are several evergreen trees of different sizes and shapes. Some trees are filled with cross-hatching, while others are just outlines. A few small stars are scattered in the sky above the trees. The background is a simple line representing the horizon.

A simple line drawing of a winter scene. It features several evergreen trees of varying sizes and styles. One tree on the left has a star on top. Another tree in the center is shaded with dark, dense lines. The background is plain white, and there are a few small, simple marks scattered around the base of the trees, possibly representing snow or ground.

A child's drawing of a winter scene. The foreground shows a path or road leading into the distance. On the left, there are several snow-covered evergreen trees. In the center, a single evergreen tree stands prominently. To the right, there are more snow-covered trees and bushes. The sky is filled with several five-pointed stars of varying sizes, suggesting a starry night. The drawing is done in a simple, sketchy style with some areas filled in with dark shading.
